Updated: Advisory Notice

Re: Technologist Choice DIS-050B

Date: November 10, 2020

Bio Nuclear Diagnostics Inc. (BND Inc.) has received several inquiries and complaints from people in the Province of Manitoba regarding the Item Cat. No DIS-050B, Technologist Choice Earloop Masks. The most common complaints are foul smell and skin irritation, and inquiries include additional information about the product shelf life. Preliminary investigation of lot numbers 20090515 and 20090525, which were provided by end users, indicate that these masks have not been sold by BND Inc. recently and are passed the shelf life. The recommended shelf life of these masks is 3-5 years from the date of manufacture. BND Inc. does not support using these masks or distributing these masks past this shelf life. Masks without a lot numbers cannot be traced, and BND Inc. advises end users to contact the distributor/organization that provided these masks for further information on date of purchase. BND Inc. are in the process of notifying all the relevant regulatory authorities of these complaints and adverse events.

Please note BND Inc. does not have data or test results to support the extension of shelf life of masks stored at controlled temperature. Therefore, BND Inc. does not support the sale or distribution of masks older than 5 years.

In 2020, it is mandatory to have both the lot number and expiry date, this is listed at the bottom of all recent DIS-050B boxes. All current BND Inc, masks are manufactured under ASTM F2100 and are medical grade.

BND holds an ISO13485 and MDSAP certificate and a Health Canada Medical Device Establishment Licence and are such governed by the standards and regulations regarding all medical devices. BND Inc. has not manufactured or sold any masks in 2020 without a lot number and expiry, and with the above-mentioned lot numbers to any end user /organization/distributor. No further information will be provided until an investigation is complete. We appreciate your patience concerning this matter.

Sincerely
